A Strong Desire for the Highest Good and Best Welfare of the World.

THE GREAT WORDS OF GREAT MEN.

A Most Remarkable Array of Outspoken Statements from Men of Mark in Both Continents.

INTERESTING FACTS AND FACES.

The orator before the Senate called this "an age of progress." He was wrong. "Progress" does not half express it; it is an age of revolution. Revolution carried on, not by armies, but by discoverers, inventors and brainworkers. It is a marvelous age, an age when the ordinary will not be accepted, when the best is demanded. Our grandfathers were content to travel in stage coaches, to live in cabins and receive a mail once a week. We demand palace cars, tasteful homes and daily communication with the world. It is the rapid-transit age; the age of the telegraph and the telephone. A man who takes to-day and the entire world reads his words to-morrow morning, there [illegible] enlightened age and escaped ridicule, while the world received the benefit which his discoveries have brought. Koch, although forced to reveal his discovery before its perfection, will be revered by future generations.

WILLIAM EDWARD ROBESON, M. R. C. S. L. K. Q. C. I.
Late of the Royal Navy of England.

The discoveries of these great men have been of untold benefit to the world, and yet they were not in the line of the world's greatest need. Mankind has been suffering, enduring, dying from a cause far greater than small-pox, more terrible than hydrophobia and more subtile than consumption. The habits of modern life, the very inventions which have made civilization so great, have drained the vital forces of life and undermined the organs that sustained life four hours in a day, but forty-eight hours are crowded into it.

We all know how we have advanced materially. Do we realize how we have advanced scientifically? More than in any other manner. Indeed, it has been the advancement in science which has caused the advancement in material things. The discovery of steam permitted the railroad and the steamboat. The development of electricity made possible the telegraph and the telephone, so that the development of the sciences has been the real cause of all modern advancement.

We will take, for example, one department of science, but the most important department. One which affects our very lives and happiness. Formerly the treatment of human ills was made a matter of superstition, of incantation, the same as it is by the medicine men of the Indians to-day. Gradually emerging from such blindness, it was still a matter of bigotry, of folly. What people must have suffered in those days can scarcely be imagined. They were bled, they were cupped, they were leeched, they were subjected to every device whereby their vitality could be reduced, and their lives endangered. It is almost a wonder that the race survived.

There has been an absolute revolution in the practice of medicine and in the treatment of human ills. Instead of undermining the vital forces by cupping and bleeding, the vitality is now sustained in every possible manner. Instead of tearing down we seek to build up. Instead of increasing misery we seek to create happiness.

But the greatest advancement in medical science has been made by discovery. Harvey could afford to endure the ridicule of the world for revealing to it the grand discovery of the circulation of the blood. Jenner might be ostracised, but millions have benefited by his discovery of vaccination. Pasteur lived in a more

Ten years ago this great truth was realized by a gentleman whose own life was in sad jeopardy, and the discovery which he has given to the world has done and is doing more to-day to strengthen the vitality, lessen suffering, preserve the health and lengthen life than any of the discoveries of the other great men above mentioned. The discovery referred to was made by Mr. H. H. Warner, of Rochester, N. Y., and is known in Europe, in America, and throughout the world as Warner's Safe Cure.

It may perhaps be thought that the above assertion is an extravagant one, and so it would be were not the unquestionable proofs present to verify it. Within the past few years the claims made more than ten years ago have been admitted by the highest scientific authorities, both in Europe and America, and it is with pleasure that we present herewith some remarkable reproduced statements, together with the faces of the men who made them.

Kidney troubles, resulting far too often in Bright's disease, are the great evil of modern life. To-day not realized until their treacherous fangs have been fixed upon the vital portion of life. Nothing can be more deceptive, for their symptoms are varied in nearly every instance. Thousands of persons have been their victims without realizing or knowing what it is that afflicted them. Thousands are suffering to-day who do not know the cause. The following outspoken words, however, show what wonderful things this great remedy has done:

GEORGE W. NAANES, M. D., Arney, Ind.: "I am using Warner's SAFE Cure in my practice and find it to be a valuable medicine."

B. G. GARY, M. D., Mound P. O., Kanawha Co., W. Va.: "As a practicing physician I have had occasion to examine closely the remedial effects of

N. C. MURPHY, M. D., Marion, S.C.: "I have tried Warner's SAFE Cure in my practice and find that it acts like a charm."

A. M. COLE, M. D., Peninsula, Ohio: "I have prescribed Warner's SAFE Cure in my professional practice with the best of results."

The discovery made by Mr. H. H. Warner has been acknowledged throughout both hemispheres to be the only discovery for this great modern evil now known to the world. Like all great discoveries, it has had its enemies and met with opposition, but its marvelous popularity with the public has been phenomenal and its complete acknowledgement by scientists and the professions has been deserved. It stands, as it deserves to stand, upon a plane of its own, pre-eminent among all prominent discoveries for the relief of humanity and the promotion of happiness.

THE COLONEL'S CARRIAGE.

A Crest That Was Altogether Too Expressive to Suit the Family.

A week ago yesterday Colonel Gilkerson's new carriage came home. It was a stylish affair throughout and looked as comfortable as a government sinecure, but Mrs. Gilkerson wasn't satisfied. She didn't offer any criticisms at first, but threw out gentle hints about some additions that might be made and some points of difference between it and some other swell turnouts she had seen.

The colonel was rather proud of the vehicle, as it had been built for him and was in some minor respects constructed in accordance with ideas of his own. He felt a little nettled at the remarks of his better half, and finally stated without unnecessary circumlocution that he would like to know what in thunder she wanted anyway.

"Angelina and I have been talking it all over," said the good lady insinuatingly, "and have decided that we want a crest on it like Angelina has on her stationery."

"You have, have ye?" snorted the colonel. "Not by a jugful, Maria! I want no such infernal British nonsense on no rig that I'm a-goin to ride in."

Maria used all her persuasive powers and Angelina seconded the motion in an able and eloquent address, but all to no purpose. The female side of the house insisted and tried to press the matter to a vote, but the colonel filibustered and avoided the issue.

"You was a working girl when I married you," said he, "and I was a workingman."

Finally, however, he yielded, and the carriage was sent back. Yesterday it came home again and the colonel told the "women folks" to get ready for a drive. They were waiting when John drove up to the door and the colonel started to help them in. Both looked for the crest and both started back with cries of dismay. Then they looked at the old man. He was gazing at the sky with a peculiar expression about his mouth. Maria and Angelina began to weep and went back into the house. The colonel entered the carriage and paraded up and down Woodward avenue half the afternoon, while passers by smiled at a design representing a shovel, an ax, a broom and a flatiron. When he got home at 4:30 Maria met him in the hallway and said she had concluded that the carriage looked better without a crest, and the colonel, stepping to the door, called to John to "drive 'er back to the shop an tell 'em to take off the frills."—Detroit Tribune.

Took the Goat Back.

The fact that goats and cows have no upper front teeth is generally unknown to city people and is even unfamiliar to a great many people who have lived all their lives in the country. A friend of mine not long since bought a goat, which he took home from this city, and an acquaintance, as a joke, told him that the animal was so old that it had lost all its upper front teeth. He laughed knowingly, but as soon as his friend was gone lost no time in examining the animal's mouth, when to his chagrin he discovered that the statement was true, and at once came back to the city to return the beast to the man from whom he had bought it. Then the fun began, for the seller of the goat took the purchaser into the yard and showed him several goats, all of whom were minus their upper front teeth. He has not yet heard the last of that goat story, and is not likely to forget the lesson he learned in natural history.—Interview in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Fishing for Deep Sea Shells.

Pearl fishing means not only fishing for pearls, but also for the shells in which they are found, the latter being really the "bread and butter" of the diver, and worth from £100 to £150 per ton. In a ton of shells there is always a quantity of seed pearls, probably a hundred or more; but good pearls are not to be reckoned on as certainties, as one man may open ten tons and not find a stone worth ten dollars, while another man make take a small fortune out of a day's gathering. The average weight of a pair of shells is two pounds.—H. P. Whitmarsh in Century.

A Nice Cool Smoke.

In the snowy regions of the Himalayas, it is said, little smoking funnels are made in the frozen snow, at the end of which is placed some tobacco, along with a piece of burning charcoal, while to the other the mountaineers place their mouths, and lying flat on their stomachs inhale the smoke of the glowing weed.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Wholesome Sorrow.

Captain—How many requests for furlough are there?

Sergeant—Twenty-one.

"What! So many! What reasons are usually given?"

"In almost all cases the death of a grandmother."—London Tit-Bits.

A Larger Denomination.

Judge (to prisoner)—Did you ever turn an honest penny?

Prisoner—No; but I turned some five dollar gold pieces once.—Kate Field's Washington

SONOMA'S PROGRESS.

Observations of a Correspondent---Retrospection.

The Capital and Enterprise that has Lately Made Its Appearance in this Valley.

MR. EDITOR:

Nearly a year has passed since I last visited your pretty little city, and I am pleased to note the many improvements which have been made within its limits in that brief period.

NEW BUSINESS HOUSES.

I notice that three new substantial business houses have been erected, the material of which, I understand, was taken from Sonoma quarries. The new bank building is an ornament to the town to be proud of. The brick business house of Fred. T. Duhring is also one of the late improvements and bespeaks thrifty and increase of business.

NAPA STREET.

The straightening of the streets, fences and sidewalks on Napa street gives that portion of your city a neat and prosperous appearance.

THE PLAZA.

Your public park, although much improved, should receive a little more attention from your enterprising citizens; but I suppose that will come in good time.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

I also notice that a young ladies and gentlemens' High School has been established in your midst with Prof. Cranmer as preceptor, and is now in a prosperous condition. There is nothing like educational institutions to insure an increase of population and certain prosperity to a growing town.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

Another improvement much talked of in connection with your city is the introduction of electric lights for the purpose of lighting the streets on dark nights. I would say to you, Mr. Editor, urge this matter with both tongue and pen, for it is a subject of much importance, both to individuals and the community

"Let your light so shine."

SONOMA'S SURROUNDINGS.

The city of Sonoma has cause to be proud of her surroundings, for upon these same surroundings hang golden promises of a bright and successful future.

Within a few miles of Sonoma are the great improvements which have been made by Senator Jones and W. B. Pless with the dredger Nevada, in which there are millions.

Then there is Senator Jas. G Fair, who has lately purchased the Behler ranch, containing several thousand acres of land, upon which he has erected a fine residence, training stables and other extensive improvements. He is also having laid out a fine race track. This enterprise will give employment to many men, who, with their families, will reside upon the place.

W. H. Graves, a wealthy bachler, has bought three large adjoining ranches near Sonoma, which he is at present engaged in highly improving. This gentleman is possessed of unlimited wealth and will doubtless give remunerative employment to many people. S. H Shaw has been engaged as manager of this valuable estate.

During a previous visit to your valley I was taken to the extensive vineyard of the late Senator Hearst, now the property of his kind-hearted and charitable widow, who is possessed of millions.

I also had the pleasure of calling upon Mrs. Robert C. Johnson, a widow and many times a millionaire whose magnificent home is at Buena Vista Park, in full sight of Sonoma, who is now having erected in another part of the State a large charitable institution for women.

These millionaires, having extensive interests in Sonoma Valley, will naturally take a pride in seeing your town improve, and seeing that a sprit of enterprise exists among the people, they no doubt will lend a helping hand. So it behooves your citizens to cultivate an enterprising spirit and hold themselves in readiness with hand and heart to work together willingly and cheerfully.

RETROSPECTION.

Looking up at the shrub-covered hills which hold their crowns so proudly above your busy, growing town, my mind goes back to a calm, moon-light night of thirty-six years ago, when in company with a small party of ladies and gentlemen the writer arrived in the old fashioned town of the Valley of the Moon. How strange and weird was the first thought of the writer as my eyes wandered over the moonlit chain of misty hills, then down to the rows of adobe huts which faced the plaza on every side. Our host and hostess on that occasion were Tony and Mrs. Oakes, who but a few weeks previous had stood side by side at the holy alt rine in the ruins of the Catholic Church on Spain street and responded to that momentous question: Will you take this women? etc. On the morning after our arrival the party was driven to the elegant residence of General and Mrs. M. G. Vallejo, where a most cordial welcome awaited us. There we were introduced to General Wool and staff, who were the guests of the General and wife.

After an hour of pleasant conversation and having partaken of an abundance of delicious refreshments, we bade adue to the boniar General and wife and their distinguished guests.

We were then driven to the Young Ladies Seminary then held in one of the adobe houses facing the plaza. There I met many beautiful and blooming maidens, fresh and lovely in their girlish beauty. Bright, intelligent and promising, some of them I have since met as matrons, some even as grand matrons. Some have passed to the echoless shore and are watching and waiting over there. Still the lovely valley blooms and brings forth its luxurious fruits and lovely flowers, and bright young maidens are tripping gaily over the paths which were trodden by those of the long ago. Dear me, I did not mean to get sentimental, but who can help it when all around reminds one of change. Pleasant for those young ambitions and full of hope and only half way up the hill of life. Sad for those going down the hill on the other side if they do not clearly see the joys that await them at the end of the earth journey.

FOR PURE FOOD.

The San Francisco Board of Health Notify Consumers which is the Best Baking Powder.

San Francisco Chronicle.

The Board of Health can engage in no more laudable business than the examination of our food supply and the instruction of the public as to those articles it finds to be pure and wholesome, and which, therefore, consumers should use

There are quantities of baking powders in the market to use which is certain detriment to the health of the consumer. They are made from alum, or improperly compounded from other chemicals, so that they leave a strong alkaline residuum in the food. Many of those powders, having proved unsalable in the East, have been collected by their manufacturers from the dealers with whom they were left on commission, and shipped to the Pacific Coast. In the effort to gain a foothold in this market their unscrupulous manufacturers have indulged in extravagant statements both with reference to their own and other brands, claiming the most improbable endorsements for them and defaming the brands best known and longest used upon the Pacific Coast. This information from this high authority, therefore, is most opportune.

The strength in leavening gas indicates both the economical value and the purity of a baking powder. The tests made by Messrs. Price & Son, the well known analytical chemists of San Francisco, show the Royal to contain 191 cubic inches of leavening gas per ounce of powder, which was 51 inches more than the next highest in strength. This shows the Royal about thirty per cent. stronger than the best of the other powders, and its use that much more economical.

The opinion of the Board of Health is as follows:

We, the members of the Board of Health of the City and County of San Francisco, cordially approve and recommend the Royal Baking Powder. It is absolutely pure and healthful, composed of the best ingredients, of the highest strength and character.

In our judgment it is impossible to make a purer or stronger baking powder than the Royal.

In the Nick of Time.

In the nick of time to stop the course of bladder and kidney complaints is when the organs concerned exhibit a tendency to grow inactive. The healthful impulse toward activity that they receive from Hostetter's Stomach Bitters rescues them from impending danger, and averts such dangerous maladies as Bright's disease and diabetes. Sluggishness of the kidneys increases a liability to chronic rheumatism, gout and dropsy, and since the blood is filtered by these organs it passes through them the opening of the Bitters serves a doubly happy purpose. The medicine acts without exciting, like the fiery stimulants of commerce. Malarial, dyspeptic, constipated and nervous invalids are thoroughly relieved by it. Since the advent of that shocking malady, la grippe, it has been widely demonstrating its usefulness as a curative and preventive of it.

W. P. Barnes and W W Gauldin announce themselves in the Santa Rosa Democrat as candidates for Supervisor of the Third District, subject to the decision of the Democratic County Convention. This is as it should be. So far no aspirants for Supervisor of this district have publicly announced themselves, although the woods are full of 'em.

Judge Jas. Hayden of Tiburon is a prominent candidate for the Democratic nomination for Supervisor of the Sausalito district, Marin county, and what is more he is going to get it. Jimmy has a host of friends in Sonoma Valley, and it is said that a number of them are going to move over to his district and register for the next election in order to give him a vote. The Judge is a Democrat, but for all that if he gets the nomination, he will be given a heavy complimentary vote by his many Republican friends.

The San Francisco and North Pacific Railway trains were packed on Decoration Day by a large number of city and country people, who took advantage of the holiday and the cheap fares of this company to take a day's outing in the country or a run to the city. Although every available passenger coach was impressed into the service every seat was filled and many patrons of the road had to stand up. The passengers, for the most part, if we except a few chronics, took the crush good naturedly, and few complaints were heard, as all seemed to realize that a phenomenal turn out of people occurred on that day.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

A Man's Head Crushed to a Pulp by the Wheels of a Heavily Loaded Block Wagon.

Thursday afternoon last Pasquale Gilino was thrown from the seat of his block wagon and instantly killed. The accident occurred on the road near the Nathanson place.

The deceased, who owned the team he was driving, was engaged in hauling blocks for A. Pinelli. When coming down a steep hill just north of the Nathanson place, with a heavy load of basalt blocks the brake gave way and the unfortunate man was thrown from his seat and fell beneath the wheels of the heavy wagon. Both arms became entangled in the spokes of the nigh fore wheel and he was dragged a distance of one hundred yards when his body became wedged in between a small tree and the bank of the road, and one of the hind wheels passed over his head crushing it into a pulp. Both arms were also broken by the wagon spokes.

The horses, after Gilino had been thrown from his seat, ran away. After proceeding a few hundred yards they ran into the rear end of a block wagon being driven by Louis Maffai, and were brought to a stand still.

Maffai, after securing the runaway team, went up the road in search of the driver. He had not proceeded far before he discovered the headless remains of Gilino.

He lay alongside the road and could only be recognized by his clothing, as he had been completely beheaded by the wheels of the heavily loaded wagon carrying three and a half tons of basalt blocks.

There was nothing left of the man's head except a mass of crushed flesh. This was gathered together and tied in a sack and placed alongside the remains and brought to town by acting Coroner Cheney.

The deceased was a native of Italy, aged 25 years. He was a sober and industrious young man and for a number of years was in the employ of C. Aguillon of this place.

A Coroner's Jury was empanelled yesterday at one o'clock, and a verdict of accidental death was rendered.

The funeral of deceased takes place this afternoon at one o'clock from St. Francis' Church.

A Horse Trade Off.

M. F. Redmond of El Verano had a narrow escape from serious injury last Saturday. He accepted an invitation to take a ride with an acquaintance who desired to sell him the animal, which he claimed was very gentle. After expatiating on the many good qualities of the horse the owner, with Mr. Redmond seated beside him, started in to give a practical illustration of the animal's good points, with the result that before the horse had proceeded a hundred yards he commenced to rear and plunge and finally wound up by kicking the cart in which they were riding almost entirely to pieces. Mr. Redmond and the owner of the animal which had no tricks went down amid the wrecked vehicle. The owner of the horse escaped unscathed. Mr. Redmond was not so fortunate, however. He was so badly bruised that he has been confined to his home all the week. The trade on that horse is now off.

The Home.

Our reporter visited the California Home for Feeble Minded Children last Saturday afternoon, and was highly entertained with the exercises which are being held for the present in the large dining room. The programme opened with a piano and violin duet. Then followed a class song by 80 of the inmates. The string band composed of six girls played with wonderful feeling a most pathetic air. Following this came a flute and violin duet by the young gentleman teacher and one of the young girl inmates. The brass band, composed of twelve pieces played by 12 young men and boys was well worth listening to. Following this came a vocal solo by one of the girls. Then came a class of dumb bells with piano accompaniment. All those who took part showed musical talent and careful training. More of our people should visit this institution where they will be pleasantly received by Dr. Osbourne and his assistants.

The following were the guests last week at the Mervyn Hotel, Glen Ellen:

Charles James, San Francisco; W. T. Battleson, S. F; Mrs W. Sloane and children, S. F; Mr. and Mrs. Schuttiers, S. F.; Mr. and Mrs Samuel Ray, S F; Mrs. McRay, S. THE CITY TRUSTEES.

They Get Down to Business --- A Trustee that Needs Light.

The City Trustees met in regular monthly session last Wednesday evening. Present — Trustees Weyl, Seipe, Schocken and Litzius.

A number of bills were presented and allowed, but the Treasury being depleted, payment was deferred until the next meeting.

Trustee Seipp made the following recommendations: First—That the sum of $50 be appropriated to finish graveling Napa street from the bridge near the Methodist Church to where the street has already been graveled. Second—That the people living around the Plaza and on adjacent streets be requested to remove the grass and weeds in front of their premises. Third—That any money appropriated for a certain purpose shall not be used for any other purpose. Fourth—That the ditch running along the west side of the Plaza be cleaned and that the maintenance of pipes or drains for discharging sewerage into the same is hereby declared a public nuisance. Fifth—That the ditches on Broadway and Spain streets be cleaned out.

On motion the above recommendations were adopted.

Marshal Sparks was notified to warn violators of the Health Ordinance to comply with the law, or proceedings would be taken against them.

Dr. H. H. Davis of the Board of Health addressed the Trustees on sanitary matters and recommended the flushing of the ditch on First-street West. His suggestions were embodied in a resolution and will be acted upon.

On motion of Trustee Schocken, seconded by Trustee Seipp, the Sewer Fund was abolished and the amount of money in the defunct fund was transferred to the General Fund.

It was ordered that the grass be cleaned off the Plaza. Also, that an apron be constructed opposite Duhring's corner for the egress and ingress of the fire apparatus.

On motion of Trustee Seipp the order allowing the School Trustees to enclose the sidewalk in front of the school premises was rescinded.

A communication from R. Poppe, representing the Vallejo heirs, was referred to the Fire and Water Committee.

Fifty dollars was appropriated for repairing Spain street west of the Plaza.

A petition of saloon keepers for a reduction of license was read and the matter laid over until the next meeting. They ask a reduction of the quarterly license from 9 to 15.

The Trustees allowed G. S. Harris the munificent sum of $7 per month for sprinkling the streets. The service is worth double the sum, and we understaud Mr. Harris has very properly refused the scanty allowance.

Trustee Litzius is in favor of light. Great Cæsar! It matters not whether it is gas, electric or any other kinds of lights, as long as it will enable him to see through things, and he moved that chairman Weyl appoint a committee to investigate the matter of lighting the town. Ah, Litz, old boy, that is about the most sensible thing you ever did in your life.

The chairman appointed Trustees Schocken and Litzius as such committee, and the Board after giving the much needed bridge at the Duhring crossing the cold shoulder, stood adjourned.

GLEN ELLEN.

Mrs A. E. Gibson intends building some additions to the Glen Ellen Hotel in the near future.

Chas Precht of San Francisco indulged in his favorite past-time one day last week. His basket of fish was the finest we have seen this season.

Dr Hunter has removed his overcoat and whiskers, and now states that he can keep cool without any trouble.

Work has commenced on the widening of one of the approaches to the iron bridge, and we might add to the great satisfaction of the people.

The Trustee election to be held here next Tuesday promises to be a lively one

Mr. Gummer and family left for Petaluma last Monday on a brief visit to friends.

J. F. Farnsworth, agent for Porter Bros. of Sacramento, has purchased the cherry crop of V. L. Pieratt. Mr. Pieratt lives in Nunn's canyon and owns one of the finest cherry orchards in this vicinity.

Owing to the illness of Miss F. Glennan, the public school closed last Friday.

The weather has been quite warm, and Geo. Beatty the butcher does a land office business in ice.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Deserving Praise.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. E. Wegner's Drug Store.

A Little Girl's Experience in a Lighthouse.

Mr and Mrs. Loren Trescott are keepers of the Gay Lighthouse at Sand Beach, Mich. and are blessed with a daughter, four years old. Last April she was taken down with Measles, followed with a dreadful Cough and turning into a fever. Doctors at home and at Detroit treated her, but in vain, she grew worse rapidly, until she was a mere "handful of bones." Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery and after the use of two and a half bottles, was completely cured. They say Dr. King's New Discovery is worth its weight in gold, yet you may get a trial bottle free at Ed. Wegner's Drugstore.

DYSPEPSIA.

Is that misery experienced when we suddenly become aware that we possess a diabolical arrangement called a stomach. The stomach is the reservoir from which every fibre and tissue must be nourished, and any trouble with it is soon felt throughout the whole system. Among a dozen dyspeptics no two will have the same predominant symptoms. Dyspeptics of active mental power and a bilious temperament are subject to Sick Headache; those, flesby and phlegmatic have Constipation, while the thin and nervous are abandoned to gloomy forebodings. Some dyspeptics are wonderfully forgetful; others have great irritability of temper.

Whatever form Dyspepsia may take, one thing is certain,

The underlying cause is in the LIVER, and one thing more is equally certain, no one will remain a dyspeptic who will

It will correct Acidity of the Stomach,
Expel foul gases,
Allay Irritation,
Assist Digestion,
and, at the same time

Start the Liver to working, when all other troubles soon disappear.

"My wife was a confirmed dyspeptic. Some three years ago by the advice of Dr. Steiner, of Augusta, she was induced to try Simmons Liver Regulator. I feel grateful for the relief it has given her, and may all who read this and are afflicted in any way, whether chronic or otherwise, use Simmons Liver Regulator and I feel confident health will be restored to all who will be advised."—WM. MANIFESTATIONS OF COURAGE.

People Who Are Brave in Some Ways and Cowards in Others.

"Courage," said the story teller, "is something which I have always found it difficult to define. I have known women who were the most cowardly creatures under the sun to do amazingly brave and daring acts under certain conditions. I have seen men, too, who knew that they were not brave, rise in emergencies and prove themselves heroic.

"But the most interesting thing about this subject is that phase of a man's character which makes him absolutely fearless in the face of many dangers, and yet makes him a great coward in one or two special cases. I have a friend whom I call a brave man. He has done two acts alone in his life which prove his courage.

"He was once in a gathering of women when a dog, showing marked signs of rabies, came running at them. A bull terrier was with the people, and the strange dog snapped indiscriminately at the terrier and the women. Its actions were quick as lightning and so terrifying to the women that several of them were on the point of fainting and the others shrieked wildly. If you have never seen a mad dog you can have no idea of its terrible aspect and of the dread which it inspires. But almost as soon as this enraged animal had leaped into the group, and even before the terrier, which would fight anything, had jumped for it, this man had caught the mad dog around the neck, jammed his head down to the ground and placed his foot on the animal's throat, holding it there firmly and coolly until some one brought him a revolver. He shot the dog as he held it pinned to the ground, and his hand did not shake in the slightest.

"This same man was once crossing a crowded street in New York, when he saw a child fall directly in front of the feet of two car horses. There was not the flash of an eye in time to spare. His actions seemed quicker than thought. With one hand upraised he caught the bit of a horse and with the other he brushed the boy ahead and then aside from the track. He was dragged several feet, but was not hurt in any way. When he extricated himself from between the horses he dived into the crowd which had gathered and hurried away to avoid the cheers which were given him.

"I saw this man at a summer resort one year. He was lying on the grass smoking, as calm and contented a man as ever was seen. Some one cried to him that an ant had run up his arm under his sleeve. He jumped to his feet, as white as chalk, looked around him helplessly and—fainted."—New York Tribune.

Domesticating the Monkey.

My experience with monkeys leads me to think that the monkey might be domesticated and made useful to man. There are many things that he can do which no other domestic animal could possibly learn to do. For example, he could be taught to pick fruit, and his agility would enable him to do this in a way that nothing could compete with him.

He could easily be taught to watch the premises at night. His quick ear and eye and his noiseless step would make him excel in such a thing; and it is surprising how easily they can be taught these things. Yet I do not mean to say that an individual could be taught these things, but a succession of generations bred and improved for domestic uses, as the dog and other domestic animals have been trained for ages and are still being trained.—New York Independent.

Billiards on Horseback.

About five or six years ago a game of billiards was played on horseback at New York by two wealthy and eccentric Americans named Warrington and Lewis, the score being a hundred up. A billiard table was erected on a large platform in one of the public halls of the city, and an entrance fee of ten dollars was charged to onlookers. At the hour appointed the expectant beholders saw the two champions ride up on magnificent steeds to the table. With their left hands they held the reins, and with their right the cue. The game lasted two hours, and just as the clock struck 12 John Warrington finished off with a magnificent break (considering the circumstances) of twelve. Warrington won the game, beating Lewis by thirty points.—Exchange.

Wig Wearing Very Old.

The ancient Egyptians all wore wigs, and the early Christians from A. D. 427 to A. D. 917 considered a false head covering a badge of distinction. This, too, in direct opposition to Tertullian, who in vain declared them devices and inventions of the devil, and Clement of Alexandria, who warned his hearers that when the sacred hands of the clergy were laid on their heads the blessing would not penetrate through the false hair.—St. Louis Republic.

The Height of Hospitality.

Mother—Why have you put on that old dress? and, dear me, why are you rubbing that dirt on your face?

Little Daughter—Susie Slummer has tum to call on me an she's dot an old dress an a dirty face.—Good News.

"August Flower"

Mrs. Sarah M. Black of Seneca, Mo., during the past two years has been affected with Neuralgia of the Head, Stomach and Womb, and writes: "My food did not seem to strengthen me at all and my appetite was very variable. My face was yellow, my head dull, and I had such pains in my left side. In the morning when I got up I would have a flow of mucus in the mouth, and a bad, bitter taste. Sometimes my breath became short, and I had such queer, tumbling, palpitating sensations around the heart. I ached all day under the shoulder blades, in the left side, and down the back of my limbs. It seemed to be worse in the wet, cold weather of Winter and Spring; and whenever the spells came on, my feet and hands would turn cold, and I could get no sleep at all. I tried everywhere, and got no relief before using August Flower. Then the change came. It has done me a wonderful deal of good during the time I have taken it and is working a complete cure." ④

J. W. RAGSDALE, Plaintiff, vs. F. G. NAGLE, Defendant.

The plaintiff for cause of action against the defendant, alleges: That on the 16th day of November, 1888, said defendant, F. G. Nagle, received from G. W.
